

Automated External Defibrillation And Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation

Over 170,000 people die in the UK each year from cardiac arrest. Research shows that in the event of this happening the best chance of survival is to be defibrillated within 5 minutes. You could raise a person's chance of survival from 5% to 80% if you have an automated external defibrillator and a trained operator at the site of the sudden cardiac arrest.
